West Virginia Debt Settlement

The West Virginia Debt Settlement Committee, New York, announce deposits of Virginia Deferred Certificates to date as amounting to more than nine-tenths of the Certificates of 1871, which comprise the bulk of the certificates set aside by Virginia to represent the proportion of the old State Debt left for West Virginia to pay.

Deposits of certificates issued under the other Funding Acts of 1879, 1882 and 1892 aggregate seven-eighths of the total of those issues.

Deposits are still received by Messrs. Brown Brothers & Co., 59 Wall Street, New York, 59 Wall Street, New 10rk, and the attention of holders is directed to the fact that the subpoena issuing out of the Supreme Court or the United States to the State of West Virginia is returnable October 8, 1806, when West Virginia is directed to appear and answer the bill; therefore, to participate in any benefits that may be obtained, all holdings should be deposited before that date.

While the Committee reserves the right to impose penalty for failure to deposit; it will receive deposits without penalty where there is a reasonable ground for failure to deposit.
